

SONGS OF LEADERSHIP 2017

To the theme of “Faith.” By Jason Mesches

We believe in Morning trails,
We believe in Afternoon trails, and We believe in Grotto trails,
and We believe in Uphill trails,
We believe in JCA, because it’s really fun to say, but don’t ask us to sleep in a parking lot.

We believe in fist-of-fives,
We believe in hornet hives,
We believe in Grotto drives,
and we believe we’re still alive.

We believe in saying...
That we are almost there...
To help everybody stay calm.

and We believe in Katie’s facts,
We believe in candy snacks,
We believe in sweaty backs,
and Michael Valle’s backpack.

and We believe that if we could talk for a minute,
It would get really deep and meaningful.

and We believe in Nike Shoes,
and we believe in Nature poos, Don’t look now, Leadership’s unraveling.

and We believe in pokeballs,
We believe in counting falls,
And we believe that we’re about to eat (beat) HiChew!

and We believe in Low Blood Sugey,
We believe in dark brown boogies,

Yes we realizes those are non syn-on-omous.

We believe in pumping arms,
We believe in JCA's farns,
We believe in sleeping in without the a-larm

Now, We believe in hydros down, and We believe in making vlogs,
Please don't look at Earl the handsome dog.

We believe in constant motion,
We believe in the Pacific ocean,
and We believe we'll see it someday...

Now, We believe in Heidi's skirt,
We believe in excessive dirt,
We're a little hurt cuz we slept in a parking lot.

Now if we see you sitting there, resting on the floor,
We'll leave you behind, that's what friends are for.

Now, we believe the sun will set,
But we believe the gift we get,
Is that we're able to hike to-mor-row.

Now, we believe the reason, we love each other so,
Do you know what they call that...
We believe they call that hike.
